

// ABOUT ME

I've been around the block more than a few times and consider myself to be a fairly adept "jack of most things". Hi, I'm Chris and I'm passionate, confident, motivated, imaginative, educated, open-minded, cultured, well-rounded and hard-working. I'm particularly great with words, people and considering conundrums. I'm also very easygoing, jovial, authentic, sarcastic, straightforward and fun. Honestly, I like most people and most people tend to like me. (Personal and professional references are available upon request)

// EDUCATION

[BA] Vanguard University (1997)

[MA] University of California, Santa Barbara (2007)

[PHD] University of California, Santa Barbara (2010 ABD)

// EXPERTISE

[ACADEMIA] As far as my academic qualifications are concerned, I am a philosopher. I'm an active professional within the discipline and have been teaching post-secondary level courses in philosophy for the past fifteen years at such institutions as San Diego State University, the University of California, Santa Barbara, Allan Hancock College, Westmont College, Auburn University Montgomery, the University of Hawaii and Santa Monica College. (A dossier of my academic transcripts, professional productivity and teaching experience is available upon request)

[DESIGN] My experience as a freelance design specialist is fairly substantial and runs the gambit: creative consultant, graphic artist, web guru, audio-video producer/director, etc. I'm particularly good within the music, surf and skate industries (A portfolio of some of my work is available upon request)

[EMCEE] Fortunately, communication has always come easy for me. I'm good with words, comfortable in my own skin and really just enjoy connecting with others: Committee chairperson, Strategic workgroup leader, LIVE event and TV-Radio show host, co-host, commentator.
