

CHRIS DYLAN TENNBERG

tennberg@gmail.com | tennberg.com | teachphilosophyonline.com

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

My name is Chris Tennberg and I'm an active, passionate, professional philosopher. I've been teaching post-secondary level courses in philosophy and religion for the past fifteen years. I have over 500 credit hours of instructional experience teaching "Face-2-Face", "Hybrid", "Fully Online", "Writing Intensive" and "Honors" courses at both the lower and upper divisional levels. I'm particularly interested in developing innovative, engaging and effective online learning strategies. I have served on several important academic/institutional committees (e.g. Distance Learning Committee and Curriculum Committee, etc). I am also proficient in most, if not all, online/distance LMS educational technology platforms.

EMPLOYMENT APPOINTMENTS

Allan Hancock College Adjunct Professor of Philosophy	2007-2019
Auburn University Montgomery Adjunct Professor of Philosophy	2010-2019
Santa Monica College Adjunct Professor of Philosophy	2016-2017
University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College Adjunct Professor of Philosophy	2015-2017
University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College Instructor of Philosophy (full-time, tenure track)	2010-2015
Westmont College Adjunct Professor of Philosophy	2009-2010
University of California, Santa Barbara Teaching Assistant / Associate Instructor	2005-2010
San Diego State University Teaching Assistant / Lecturer	2003-2004

EDUCATION

University of California, Santa Barbara 2004-2010

PhD (Philosophy) ABD in good standing

Dissertation – “Aspects of Socratic Rationality”

My research aims to provide an account of “Socratic rationality” based on the early dialogues of Plato and to consider how that account might bear upon several controversial aspects of Socratic philosophy – most notably, the worry that Socrates’ allegiance to the so-called daimonion (or ‘divine sign’) is irrational given his frequent claims to be the kind of person that is persuaded by reason and rational argument alone.

C.Phil (Ancient Greek Philosophy) 2007
MA (Philosophy) 2007

San Diego State University 2002-2003

30 units of MA coursework (Philosophy) See itemized list of coursework below*

Westminster Theological Seminary 1997-1999
MA (Theology) 1999

Vanguard University 1994-1997
BA (Religion) summa cum laude 1997

TEACHING INTERESTS, EXPERIENCE AND EVALUATION DATA

Although I have developed, taught and formally assessed a wide variety of courses in philosophy and religion, my primary areas of interest and competence lie in the History of philosophy, Metaphysics, Epistemology, Ethics and World Religions. I have accumulated over 500 semester (and just over 21 quarter-term) credit hours of instructional experience (teaching assistant appointments not included). Below is an itemized list of my teaching appointments as well as some student evaluation data.

Alan Hancock College 2007-2019
Adjunct Professor of Philosophy

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Survey of Philosophy	PHIL 101	Fall 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010. Spring 2008	15
Existence and Reality	PHIL 102	Fall 2008. Summer 2011, 2016, 2017, 2018	15
Ethics	PHIL 105	Spring 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019. Fall 2016, 2017, 2018	21
Critical Thinking	PHIL 114	Fall 2008, 2009, 2010. Spring 2009, 2010. Summer 2011	18

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Religions of the World	PHIL 121	Winter 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018	12

Auburn University Montgomery
Adjunct Professor of Philosophy

2010-2019

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Applied Ethics	PHIL 2100	Fall 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019. Spring 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019. Summer 2018	77
Introduction to Philosophy	PHIL 2010	Spring 2018, Fall 2018	6

Santa Monica College

Adjunct Professor of Philosophy

2016-2017

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Knowledge and Reality	PHILOS 1	Summer 2016 (Honors section)	3
Early Philosophers	PHILOS 3	Summer 2016	3

University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College

Adjunct Professor of Philosophy

2015-2017

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Morals and Society	PHIL 101	Fall 2015, 2016	6
Ancient Greek Philosophy	PHIL 211	Fall 2015, Spring 2016	6
Introduction to World Religions	REL 150	Summer 2016	3
Christianity	REL 210	Spring 2017	3

University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College

Instructor of Philosophy (full-time, tenure track)

2010-2015

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Introduction to Philosophy	PHIL 100	Fall 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014. Spring 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015	42
Morals and Society	PHIL 101	Fall 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014. Spring 2012, 2013, 2015. Summer 2012, 2013, 2014	30
Introduction to Logic	PHIL 110	Fall 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014. Spring 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015	39
Special Topics in Philosophy	PHIL 199V	Summer 2011, Fall 2013	6

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Film and Philosophy	PHIL 204	Fall 2013, Spring 2015	6
Ancient Greek Philosophy	PHIL 211	Fall 2011, 2012, 2013, 2015. Spring 2013, 2016. Summer 2012.	21
Introduction to World Religions	REL 150	Fall 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014. Spring 2010, 2012, 2013, 2015. Summer 2013, 2014, 2015	45

Westmont College

2009-2010

Adjunct Professor of Philosophy

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Philosophical Perspectives	PHI 006	Fall 2009, Spring 2010	6

University of California, Santa Barbara

2005-2010

Associate Instructor / Teaching Assistant (TA appointments are italicized by academic term)

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Introduction to Philosophy	PHIL 1	Spring 2008, Summer 2008, Winter 2009	12
Introduction to Logic	PHIL 3	Summer 2006, Winter 2008	6
Introduction to Ethics	PHIL 105	Fall 2007	3
Ancient Greek Philosophy	PHIL 20A	Fall 2005, 2006, 2008. Summer 2007	21
Medieval Philosophy	PHIL 20B	Winter 2006, 2007	3
Modern Philosophy	PHIL 20C	Spring 2006, 2007, 2010	9
Pre-Socratic Philosophy	PHIL 151	Spring 2009 (Upper Division Course)	3
Plato	PHIL 152	Fall 2009 (Upper Division Course)	3
Aristotle	PHIL 153	Spring 2010 (Upper Division Course)	3

San Diego State University

2003-2004

Associate Instructor / Teaching Assistant (TA appointments are italicized by academic term)

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Classics of Western Philosophy	PHIL 305	Spring 2003	3
Philosophy of Human Nature	PHIL 310	Fall 2003	3
Social Ethics	PHIL 329	Summer 2003	3

Course Title	Alpha/#	Academic Terms of Instruction	Hours
Philosophy of Religion	PHIL 512	Spring 2004 (Upper Division Course)	3

Student Evaluation Data

I sincerely consider student evaluation data to be an essential and invaluable source of evidence when it comes to assessing instructional performance as well as highlighting particular areas of student praise or concern. I am regularly and formally evaluated by my students and faculty peers. Complete copies of my formal evaluations are available upon request. The chart below provides a categorized, graphical summary of the student evaluations administered during my full-time appointment as Instructor of Philosophy at Kauai Community College (Fall 2010 - Spring 2015). The data rates various aspects of instructional performance and effectiveness according to the following scale/criteria: 1= Strongly Disagree, 2 = Disagree, 3 = Neutral, 4 = Agree, 5 = Strongly Agree.

AWARDS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Board of Regents Excellence in Teaching Award (Official Nominee) 2012, 2015
 University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College

Paul Wienpahl Award for Excellence in Teaching 2009-2010
 University of California, Santa Barbara

Outstanding Teaching Assistant Award (Official Nominee) University of California, Santa Barbara	2009-2010
Doctoral Student Travel Grant University of California, Santa Barbara	2009
Graduate Student Fellowship University of California, Santa Barbara	2005-2009
UBS Academic Achievement Award in Ancient Greek Vanguard University	1997
Official Goodwill Ambassador to the Island of Kauai County Of Kauai – Appointed by Mayor Joanne Yukimura	1991

COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY SERVICE / OUTREACH

Co-Chair & Division representative – Curriculum Committee University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College	2010-2015
Chair & Division representative – Distance Learning Committee University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College	2010-2015
Faculty Advisor – KCC Philosophy Club ASUH Student Government, Kauai Community College	2014-2015
Author – Faculty column entitled “All Philosophical” Ka Leo O KCC - Kauai Community College Newspaper	2014-2015
Chair & College representative – Gen. Ed. Foundations Board University of Hawaii - 10 Campus, Systemwide Board	2012-2015
Chair & Division representative – Gen. Ed. Foundations Board University of Hawaii, Kauai Community College	2012-2014
College representative – Strategic Group on Distance Education University of Hawaii - 10 Campus, Systemwide Strategic Planning Group	2012
Co-Creator & Host – The “Kauai Kine Show” An informal variety talk show featured on SURF 95.9 FM and the WWW	2010-2012
Creator & Host – The “Guerrilla Radio Show” An informal philosophy talk show featured on KCSB 91.9 FM and the WWW	2005-2010

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY, DEVELOPMENT AND SERVICE

Hawaii Strategic Institute (Hosted by Windward Community College) Participant – HSI's Annual two-day conference on UHCC Student Success	2014
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Chair – Colloquium on Time and Tense	2014
Achieving the Dream Participant – Achieving the Dream's Annual Meeting on Student Success	2014
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Chair – Colloquium on Sociality and Mind	2013
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Chair – Colloquium on Belief	2013
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Chair – Symposium on Zeno	2012
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Chair – Colloquium on Plato	2011
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Commentator – “Images and Truth in Plato's Symposium”	2010
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Chair – Colloquium on Plato	2009
7th Annual Hawaii International Conference on Arts/Humanities Presenter – “Aspects of Socratic Rationality”	2009
Society for Ancient Greek Philosophy Official Society Webmaster (pro bono publico)	2009-2014
Society of Christian Philosophers Official Society Webmaster (pro bono publico)	2009-2014
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Commentator – “Locality and Necessity”	2008
American Philosophical Association (Pacific Division) Presenter – “Personal Identity and Genomes”	2005

ACADEMIC REFERENCES

Helen Cox (Kauai Community College)
Chancellor
(PH) 808-245-8210 | (EM) helencox@hawaii.edu

James Dire (Methodist College)
Chancellor
(PH) 309-672-5583 | (EM) dire@methodistcol.edu

Alan Boyes (Kauai Community College)
Chair, Assistant Professor, Department of History
(PH) 808-245-8340 | (EM) aboyes@hawaii.edu

Thomas Holden (University of California, Santa Barbara)
Chair, Professor, Department of Philosophy
(PH) 805-893-2841 | (EM) tholden@philosophy.ucsb.edu

Nathan Salmon (University of California, Santa Barbara)
Professor, Department of Philosophy
(PH) 805-893-4028 | (EM) nsalmon@philosophy.ucsb.edu

Aaron Zimmerman (University of California, Santa Barbara)
Advisor, Associate Professor, Department of Philosophy
(PH) 805-893-2632 | (EM) azimmerman@philosophy.ucsb.edu

Jim Taylor (Westmont College)
Professor, Department of Philosophy
(PH) 805-565-6157 | (EM) taylor@westmont.edu

Steve Barbone (San Diego State University)
Chair, Professor, Department of Philosophy
(PH) 805-893-2632 | (EM) azimmerman@philosophy.ucsb.edu

Michael Horton (Westminster Theological Seminary)
Professor, Systematic Theology
(PH) 760-480-8474 | (EM) mshorton@wscal.edu

Jerry Camery-Hoggatt (Vanguard University)
Professor, Narrative Theology
(PH) 714-556-3610 | (EM) jcameryhoggatt@vanguard.edu

COMPLETED GRADUATE COURSEWORK IN PHILOSOPHY

University of California, Santa Barbara

2004-2009

PHIL 283 – Beginning Modern/Symbolic Logic (Fall 2004)
PHIL 250 – Advanced Metaphysics (Fall 2004)
PHIL 256 – Hellenistic Philosophy (Fall 2004)
PHIL 284 – Intermediate Modern/Symbolic Logic (Winter 2005)
PHIL 230 – Pre-Socratic Philosophy (Winter 2005)
PHIL 296 – Seminar in Epistemology (Winter 2005)

PHIL 252 – Plato (Spring 2005)
PHIL 253 – Aristotle (Spring 2005)
PHIL 212 – Philosophy of Religion (Summer 2005)*
PHIL 230 – Freedom & Determinism (Fall 2005)*
PHIL 296 – Seminar in Philosophy of Mind (Fall 2005)
PHIL 230 – Seminar in Ethics (Winter 2006)
PHIL 296 – Seminar in Epistemology (Winter 2006)
PHIL 234 – Moral Psychology (Spring 2006)
PHIL 296 – Seminar in Philosophy of Language (Spring 2006)
PHIL 297 – Seminar in Ancient Philosophy (Fall 2006)
PHIL 297 – Seminar in History of Philosophy (Winter 2007)*
PHIL 296 – Seminar in Epistemology (Winter 2007)*
PHIL 297 – Seminar in Ancient Philosophy (Winter 2008)*
PHIL 297 – Seminar in Ancient Philosophy (Fall 2008)*
PHIL 297 – Seminar in Ancient Philosophy (Winter 2009)*
PHIL 286 – Modal Logic (Spring 2009)*

San Diego State University

2002-2003

PHIL 305 – Classics of Western Philosophy (Fall 2002)
PHIL 329 – Social Ethics (Fall 2002)
PHIL 537 – Philosophy of Science (Fall 2002)
PHIL 541 – History of Aesthetics (Fall 2002)
PHIL 411 – Ancient Western Philosophy (Spring 2003)*
PHIL 536 – Philosophy of Mind (Spring 2003)
PHIL 620 – Seminar in History of Philosophy (Spring 2003)
PHIL 630 – Seminar in Current Philosophical Issues (Spring 2003)
PHIL 506 – 20th Century Continental Philosophy (Fall 2003)
PHIL 610 – Seminar in Global Justice (Fall 2003)
PHIL 620 – Seminar in Metaphysics (Fall 2003)

 Audited graduate coursework completed in philosophy*

MY PERSONAL TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

One way to summarize the gist of my over-all teaching philosophy is by means of the motto “expose, explain and evaluate”. In what way does this particular motto capture my general approach to pedagogy? And how do I personally implement such a teaching philosophy in the classroom? Allow me to (briefly) explain.

First of all, in my opinion, one of the hallmarks of a good education is exposure to a broad range of ideas (both old and new), different ways of thinking, new models of analysis, different conceptions of reality, etc. In fact, I’m convinced that acquiring such an awareness of alternatives is one of the first steps that a student can (and should) take toward the development of an informed, well-rounded world and life view.

One of the things that I love most about teaching philosophy and religion to undergraduates is having the opportunity and privilege of participating in this exposure process by means of introducing students to some of the most fundamental issues/questions that can be asked about the nature of reality, human beings and our knowledge of both: e.g. Does god exist? Do humans beings have free will? What's the essence of personal identity? What does it mean to have knowledge? Can we know anything at all? Do human beings have an obligation to act morally? What makes a particular action moral or immoral? Is it morally permissible for a woman to have an abortion? Do the citizens of wealthier nations have a moral obligation to help end extreme poverty and world hunger?

However, since exposure to such diverse notions can sometimes be a bit unnerving and since I believe that first impressions are often lasting, one of my personal instructional goals is to constantly develop methods of presentation that are specifically designed to enhance the student's exposure experience. In my own classes, this usually means that I begin by establishing a strong sense of rapport with my students and work hard to create and maintain an environment that is inviting and conducive for discussion and open dialogue—a place where students feel that it's safe to explore and consider new issues/questions openly and honestly. Another way that I like to enhance a student's exposure experience is by incorporating new forms of instructional technology into my delivery and presentation of the material: e.g. using well crafted lecture slides, illustrative images, pertinent audio and video clips, providing links to online resources such as a course website, downloadable lecture notes, tutorials, supplementary readings, helpful podcasts, etc.

Second, although I consider the exposure process to be an essential aspect of the ideal college/university education, I do not think it is enough to simply introduce students to a host of different ideas, perspectives, etc. After all, much of the material that students get exposed to in the classroom is complex and therefore often difficult to process and fully understand. Merely exposing students to subject "X" without taking the time to fully explain the meaning of "X", what "X" consists of, what accepting "X" might entail and how "X" may or may not be relevant to other aspects of life can often leave students feeling disoriented and frustrated. As such, I feel that it is crucial for instructors do everything that they can to provide their students with the explanations needed for their full grasp and retention of the issues/questions under consideration. One of the ways that I personally strive to meet this explanatory need is to make sure that I am the kind of instructor who is always prepared, organized, clear, patient and available when it comes to answering questions and engaging students in regular, lively, interactive and inquisitive discussions both in and out of the classroom.

Finally, although I'm convinced that the notions of exposure and explanation are both necessary aspects of a student's educational experience, I do not believe that those notions are entirely sufficient for a student's intellectual growth and development. That's why the final element of my over-all teaching philosophy emphasizes the importance of evaluation. In my opinion, instructors should not only be in the business of exposing and explaining, but also be committed to helping their students acquire and develop the critical tools needed to properly evaluate the ideas, concepts, issues/questions they are being exposed to. One of my favorite ways of incorporating evaluative analysis into my particular teaching style is to utilize stimulating thought experiments that are specifically designed to get students to wrestle with their own intuitions as well as question and carefully consider the various assumptions, arguments and theories being advanced. The ancient Greek philosopher Socrates famously claimed that “the unexamined life is not worth living”, and for the most part, I think that Socrates was right. As such, I believe it is vitally important that students (as well as instructors) learn to think rationally and critically about the beliefs that shape our particular conception of the world and our place in it.